Custom Order Finish Colors

Occasionally we get asked to do a custom color finish that is both difficult to mix, and impossible to quote an exact price on because most special colors are considerably more costly to formulate. Consequently, we have to charge for these on an individual job cost basis. Some finishes that are requested simply can't be done.

How To Order A Special Finish

- 1 - Because of the additional production cost, we want our customers to be sure that the finish color they are requesting is worth the extra expense.
- 2 - If the customer is sure he or she is comfortable with the additional cost, the next step is to supply us with a sample of the color they want us to mix or match.
- 3 - If we are able to match the customer's color sample, we will send a sample chip of the mix to them for their approval if they request us to do so. We should note that due to many ongoing new environmental protection regulations, some colors and types of nitrocellulose lacquer have become unavailable, or prohibitive in their cost.
